Annual Unit Inspection Reminder

We would like to remind all tenants many Annual Unit Inspections are taking place early in the year.

If you are a new tenant you may not of had an annual inspection before. M'akola conducts unit inspections each year to make sure buildings are maintained. It is an important process to ensure M'akola continues to provide safe and healthy homes to all tenants.

Please note the purpose of inspections is not to assign blame, but for tenants and M'akola staff to work together so all homes meet health and safety requirements. This is also a time to connect with M'akola staff and discuss concerns or questions you may have about your unit.

If you are a long time M'akola tenant you may be familiar with a pen and paper inspection. M'akola has moved to an inspection software so unit information will be recorded electronically. If you have any questions about your inspection please reach out to your regional office!

Garbage & Recycling At Your Complex

Recycling: If you have cardboard or mixed recycling (glass, tin, plastic, etc.) at your site please be sure to use the correct bin. If you are disposing of cardboard boxes break them down before recycling.

Garbage Bins: Garbage bins are only for the use of tenants for regular garbage items. This means household garbage you put in a trash bag and take out regularly.

Large Trash/Furniture: Garbage bins at your site are not intended for large items such as furniture. Please know, if you dump these items in/by the bins you will be charged for the extra hauling fee. If you have large items or furniture (like an old mattress) you can reach out to your local office to coordinate hauling it away for a fee. You may be able to establish a repayment plan if you can't afford all the hauling costs at once.

Emergency Preparedness—Home Emergency Kit

In this edition of the Emergency Preparedness section we have gathered some tips and a checklist for creating an emergency preparedness kit for you and your family. If you already have an emergency kit review this list to make sure you have everything you need or take the time to see if anything has expired and needs to be replaced!

Preparedness Kit Checklist

This checklist covers the basic supplies.

- Waterproof matches
 - A compass
 - Water purifying tablets or filtration system
 - Emergency food rations or canned food
 - Whistle
 - Emergency radio
 - Waterproof ponchos
 - Rope or paracord
 - Pocket knife or multi purpose tool
- First Aid kit that includes:
- Tensor bandages
 - Instant ice packs
 - Bandages (varying sizes)
 - Gauze & medical tape
 - Pain medication
 - Survival blanket
 - Flashlight and extra batteries
 - Sanitary wipes/disinfectant

Tips for a Good Kit

When preparing your emergency kit it is important to consider the following:

Who is it for? – Make your kit unique to the members that will need it. Are there personal items like medications that a member of your household will need in the kit. You'll also need different supplies if you have a pet.

Beyond Survival Essentials – Food, water, and heat are basic for survival. Ensure your kit has supplies that will make this possible, but what small possessions could fit with the supplies to go above and beyond? A small game or a deck of cards for entertainment for example.

Hope for the Best; Prepare for the Worst – It is better safe than sorry when it comes to a survival kit. If you have the space for it include extras of supplies you already have or expand to more specific things like multi purpose survival tools.

Dual Purpose Products – Packing products that can serve multiple purposes can help save space in your kit. For example, a crayon can be used to write, but also can be used as an emergency candle by putting it against a flame.

Check Regularly – Once you have created your kit check it routinely to ensure nothing is expired or expiring soon.

Easily Accessible – Make sure your kit is ready in a 'grab and go' scenario. You may not have the time to fetch it out from the bottom of your closet when it's needed. You can also maximize space by storing supplies in other supplies (like a large water bottle).

The Salish Woolly Dog

Have you ever heard of the Salish woolly dog? These small, fluffy dogs used to be bred by Coast Salish Indigenous communities living on the coast of southwest B.C. The breed became extinct more than a century ago and woolly dogs were largely forgotten by everyone but the Coast Salish people.

The Salish Woolly dog was a small, usually white, long haired dog with prick ears, curled tail, fox like face, and a thick coat. It is believed that the dogs were raised for their hair, which Coast Salish Peoples mixed with mountain goat hair to produce clothing and blankets. When the dogs coats were long enough, female weavers washed the animals hair with white clay to remove dirt. The weavers then used a sharp stone or knives made out of mussel shells to shear the dogs like sheep, cutting the hair close to the skin. The cut hair was then stored with dried clay to extract oil and kill any parasites. The dogs may have produced up to three coats a year. The dogs were highly valued in Coast Salish cultures since blankets made of their fur were considered a basic source of wealth during potlatches. Salish Woolly dogs were often buried wrapped in a blanket to honor them.
