Regional Office Updates

As we head into warmer weather, here are a few simple tips to help keep your home comfortable and avoid common summer maintenance issues.

Beat The heat Without Overworking Fans or AC

A few easy ways to keep your unit cooler this summer.

- * Keep blinds closed during the hottest part of the day.
- * Open windows in the evening to let cooler air in.
- * Use bathroom and kitchen fans to remove heat and humidity.
- * Avoid running ovens during very hot afternoons when possible.

These small changes can make a noticeable difference in comfort and energy use.

Summer Pest Prevention

Simple Ways to Prevent Summer Pests.

- * Wipe kitchen counters regularly.
- * Avoid leaving pet food out overnight.
- * Take garbage out frequently.
- * Store food in sealed containers.
- * Report Pest Concerns early before they become larger problems.

For all pest control concerns or maintenance repair requests, please call 1-877-590-0204 ext. 2.

Reduce Moisture and Prevent Mold

Summer humidity can lead to excess moisture indoors. Please remember to:

- * Run bathroom fans during showers.
- * Leave fans on for about 20 minutes afterward.
- * Report any fan that is not working properly.
- * Proper ventilation helps prevent mold and protects your living space.

Helpful Tips.

- * Leaving space around food inside the fridge helps air circulate properly and keeps cooling efficient.
- * Cleaning your dryer lint trap after every load improves the efficiency of the machine and reduces the risk of fire.
- * Test smoke alarms monthly by pressing the TEST button for a few seconds.
- * Avoid overloading washing machines. Smaller loads help machines run properly and reduce wear.
- * Avoid plugging multiple high-power appliances into the same outlet or power bar to help prevent overloading circuits.

National Indigenous Peoples Day

On June 21st, recognize and celebrate the history, heritage, diversity and culture across Canada of First Nations, Metis, and Inuit

National Indigenous Peoples Day (NIPD) is celebrated annually on June 21st in Canada to honor the rich cultures, traditions, and contributions of First Nations, Inuit, and Métis peoples. Coinciding with the summer solstice, it serves as a time of reflection, renewal, and celebration of Indigenous history and resilience.

- Significance: It marks a time for renewing relationships with Indigenous Peoples based on respect, partnership, and recognition of rights.
- Summer Solstice: June 21st holds deep spiritual meaning, often linked to the summer solstice, representing a time of community and gathering.
- Activities: Celebrations often include cultural dancers, traditional foods, workshops, and community events.
- National Indigenous History Month: NIPD is a highlight of June, which is recognized as National Indigenous History Month.
- Equally important with the celebrations and ceremonies is to recognize and understand the history and hardships generations of Indigenous people have gone through. The effects of residential schools are still prominent in many communities. For those who have been effected by residential school and find this time difficult, support is offered by:

NATIONAL INDIGENOUS PEOPLES DAY

Emergency Preparedness—Wildfire

In the event of an emergency it is always best to be prepared! This issues Emergency Preparedness section covers preparing for a wildfire.

Emergency Alerts

In the event of a life-threatening emergency, such as a wildfire, an emergency alert will be issued to impacted areas in B.C. Some alerts may be sent to small warning areas, while others may affect more than one region or be issued province-wide.

You don't need to do anything to receive an emergency alert. They will automatically be sent to active cell phone numbers. Read the alert immediately after receiving it to determine if you're in the impacted area, if so you will need to evacuate the area.

For emergency information updates go to emergencyinfobc.gov.bc.ca

Emergency Evacuation

If an Evacuation Alert is in place, be ready to leave on short notice. Take these steps

Move patio furniture, cushions, door mats and any other flammable outside items indoors

If possible take down flammable curtains and window covers

Ensure your house number is visible. This will help firefighters locate your home quickly

If an Evacuation Order is in place it means you are at risk and must leave immediately.

Grab your Emergency Kit and Emergency Plan before you leave!

On your way out close all doors and windows. Turn on both interior and exterior lights so your home is visible to firefighters in the event there is heavy smoke

If you have natural gas in your unit it shut it off before you leave!

Emergency Kit Should be Ready!

In previous issues we shared how to make an emergency kit. The BC Government has a comprehensive list online: www2.gov.bc.ca

Have your kit ready as you may need to use the supplies while you shelter in place at your home. If your home is unsafe to stay in you will need to take your kit with you and your family as you find safety.

Have an Emergency Plan

In the event of a wildfire you might need to be away from your home for several days. You can find great information on preparing an emergency plan at PreparedBC.ca or refer to the last newsletter.

Ensure your family knows what to do in this scenario by preparing ahead of time. Note who you will contact. Have access to a radio to listen to emergency broadcasts. You can keep a copy of your Emergency Plan in your Emergency Kit.

Ensure Your Renter's Insurance is Up-To-Date

Check your renter's insurance annually (at a minimum) to make sure all your possessions and family are covered in the event of a natural disaster. For any questions about renter's insurance you can reach out to your local M'akola office.

Spaghetti Box Feathers

Have fun creating these simple yet beautiful feathers. Frame them, wear them, its up to you!

Supplies:

- * Acrylic Paints (metallic is nice)
- * Box of Spaghetti or linguini for a different texture.
- * Cereal box (these work the best because they are long).
- * Paintbrush
- * White glue
- * Scissors
- * Items can all be purchased at the dollar store.

Directions:

1. Draw a turkey feather shape.. Kind of like a corn dog. Leave a slight tail at the end.
2. Cut small diagonal cuts in the sides of the feather.
3. Paint using acrylic paint (the feather might curl up after painting but will relax as it dries)
4. Let them dry (if you are antsy, use a blow-dryer but don't let them blow around in the air).
5. Add some dimension by gluing a single spaghetti noodle down the middle.
6. Glue small spaghetti strands to the sides in a diagonal pattern.
7. Allow the glue to dry then go back over the top with any paint color you like.
8. "(optional)" punch a hole in the end and add metal grommets to hang them up with.

History of Indigenous Regalia

Indigenous regalia in Canada is a vibrant, evolving expression of identity, spirituality, and storytelling, deeply rooted in family history and cultural resilience. Often handcrafted, it serves as a powerful connection to ancestors and community. Though colonial legislation once restricted its use, it has remained a vital symbol of survival.

Significance & Purpose: Regalia is not a "costume," but sacred clothing worn for ceremonies, potlatches, and celebrations, symbolizing personal and family history. Each piece tells a story, featuring elements like feathers, beadwork, and fur, often passed down through generations.

Jingle Dress (1920s-Present): Originating with the Anishinaabe, the shiibaashka'igan (jingle dress) is a healing dress introduced in the 1920s, which became a staple at powwows.

Fancy Dance/Shawl (Early 20th Century): These styles were created to showcase athleticism and joy, reflecting the ability to adapt and thrive.

Regional Differences: Designs vary across cultures, from Coastal Salish cedar to Plains Cree quillwork.

Modern Day Usage: Today, regalia is widely worn to celebrate cultural pride, honor, and identity. It is actively created and worn by all ages, from children to elders, ensuring the transmission of cultural knowledge

Components & Craftsmanship

Regalia is typically handmade, incorporating materials like buckskin, ribbons, beads, and precious feathers. Making it is often a spiritual, meditative process
