Tenant Newsletter

As summer begins to wind down, August is the perfect time to make the most of the warm days and long evenings. Whether you're spending time outdoors, connecting with friends and neighbors, or enjoying local events, we hope you're finding plenty of opportunities to soak up everything the season has to offer. One of the highlights of the month is our upcoming tenant BBQs! Be sure to watch for details about the event happening in your community. It's a great opportunity to enjoy delicious food, meet your neighbors, and celebrate the summer season together. In this issue, you'll find seasonal reminders, community updates, and helpful tips to help you enjoy the remainder of the summer safely while making the most of the weeks ahead.

Regional Office Updates

As we head into warmer weather, here are a few simple tips to help keep your home comfortable and avoid common summer maintenance issues.

Air Conditioning Units

As warmer weather approaches we want to remind all tenants that window mounted air conditioning units are not permitted as they are a health and safety concern.

Air conditioning units that do not extend past the window sill and have transitioning devices that are made for every type of window are allowed.

BC Hydro is offering $50 rebates on select Air Conditioning Units. For more details visit:

BC Hydro Deals on energy-efficient products

No Smoking

We ask tenants to be respectful of the air we share at M'akola sites, especially in the Summer when people are spending more time outdoors. For this reason, we want to remind tenants to smoke in designated smoking areas only. If your site doesn't have a designated smoking area there is no smoking on site. This includes cigarettes, e-cigarettes, and cannabis.

Ways to Stay Cool and Follow the Rules

Tenants are not allowed to have pools due to safety concerns, no matter the size.

Instead find other ways to stay cool like using a sprinkler toy if you have an outdoor water spigot accessible. If you don't have this available, fun water toys like squirt toys and water foam shooters are a good option. If you want to make it extra cool add ice cubes for a shocking cool relief from the heat!

Ensuring Summer Toys are Cleaned Up

When you are done with your toys and sporting equipment please ensure they are picked up and brought back to your home from common areas.

Toys left out may get lost or removed from common spaces with the daily property clean up done by M'akola staff.

When sending an email to info@makola.bc.ca please include your name and address.

Toys of Indigenous Children Long Ago

Children have always loved to play. Long before plastic toys or electronics, Indigenous children across North America made toys from natural materials found around them. These toys were not only fun—they also helped children learn important skills they would use throughout their lives.

- Wooden Dolls: Simple dolls carved from wood have been found at ancient Inuit archaeological sites dating back more than 700 years. Some had carved faces while others were very plain. Children dressed them in tiny clothing made from animal hides, learning sewing skills and family traditions through play.
- Bone and Ivory Toys: In Arctic Communities, toys were often carved from bone, antler, or walrus ivory. Small animal figures and dolls reflected the animals that were important to daily life and helped children learn about hunting and caring for their environment.
- Ajaq: One of the oldest Indigenous toys is the ajaq, a cup-and-pin style game. Players try to catch a bone with a pointed stick connected by a cord. It helped children develop hand-eye coordination and patience while providing hours of entertainment.
- Did you know?: Many Indigenous toys were handmade by parents, grandparents, or older siblings using driftwood, bone, antler, leather, feathers, and sinew. These toys taught practical skills, storytelling, creativity, and respect for the natural world.

Back to School Shopping Tips

Back To School shopping can get overwhelming and add up quickly, so we've listed some ways to hopefully save you some money and stress!

1. Make a shopping list & set a budget.
2. Do a check of your home: see what supplies you already have from the previous school year.
3. Shop the sales: look through flyers and the stores website for online deals.
4. Price Matching: many stores like Canadian Tire & Staples have a price matching policy.
5. Promos and Coupons: check online resources like Save.ca and retailmenot.ca.
6. Shop the Dollar Store: This is a great place to stock up on pens, pencils, erasers & highlighters.
7. Visit Thrift Stores: Sometimes you can find some real treasures! Upcycled clothes & accessories are a great alternative to buying brand new. Also consider visiting smaller neighborhood shops!
